JOIN US FOR THE LONG-AWAITED RETURN OF HATHERLEIGH FESTIVAL!

Immerse yourself in a diverse range of music: on Wednesday evening, be enchanted by the captivating tenor, Gregory Steward, performing in the Church; Friday night will be a treat as Hatherleigh favorites, LIONSTAR, take the stage; brace yourself for an incredible Saturday evening with the phenomenal ELECTRIC SPANK, accompanied by a stellar lineup of performances throughout Friday evening and all day Saturday.

Sunday begins with an inclusive church service, followed by an exhilarating CEILIDH led by the talented Revd. Leigh and his family. And as if that weren't enough, the local OPEN MIC crew will provide live music throughout the afternoon on Sunday, while the tantalizing aroma of the FESTIVAL BBQ fills the air...

BUT THAT'S NOT ALL!

This year, we are thrilled to offer captivating TALKS, inspiring art EXHIBITIONS, and enlightening WORKSHOPS.

Don't miss Dr. Craig Beall's enthralling talk on the brain, presented by Hatherleigh's own esteemed neuroscientist and published scientific author from the University of Exeter, on Thursday evening. Friday offers JEWELLERY and BADGE MAKING workshops and Saturday will see the Town Square buzzing with FOOD, MARKET STALLS, henna hands and glitter faces.

TALKS & EXHIBITIONS

Beautiful Brains Talk & Exhibition – Dr. Beall

TALK: JULY 6TH AT 7.30^{PM} | £5 | EXHIBITION: 7TH, 8TH & 9TH JULY

GROUND FLOOR, OLD SCHOOLS

Uncover the mysteries of the human brain as we explore the fascinating world of brain energy sensing and usage with Dr. Craig Beall, a Hatherleigh neuroscientist and published scientific author from the University of Exeter.

Delve into the intricate mechanisms that allow the brain to monitor and adapt to energy fluctuations. Discover cutting-edge research that unveils the link between brain energy regulation and various neurological conditions. Gain insights into the neuroscience of diabetes and its impact on brain health. Explore the potential for innovative treatments utilising diabetes drugs for conditions such as Type 3 diabetes, also known as Alzheimer's disease.

Dr. Beall will share the latest breakthroughs in brain research and expand your understanding of the most complex thing in the known universe. But that's not all! As part of the Hatherleigh Festival 2023, we're excited to announce a pop-up Sci-Art exhibition. Immerse yourself in a captivating display of art inspired by the wonders of neuroscience. This exhibition will be on display in Old Schools throughout the festival weekend, providing a delightful fusion of creativity and scientific exploration.

Join us on 6th of July at the Old Schools for a stimulating evening of knowledge, art, and inspiration. Pre-booking available from Josie Lloyd josiellloyd@btinternet.com to guarantee a seat.

The Hatherleigh Tea Towel Rebellion

1ST FLOOR, OLD SCHOOLS | 7TH, 8TH & 9TH JULY

EXHIBITION OPENING TIMES:
FRIDAY 7TH 5^{PM}–7^{PM}
SATURDAY 8TH 10^{AM}–6^{PM}
SUNDAY 9TH 11^{AM}–4^{PM}

Coming to Hatherleigh Festival is an unusual exhibition featuring the humble tea towel as artwork and statement of protest. We invite you to consider the tea towel as a democratic canvas for art and design and an everyday way of conveying a statement or message.

The exhibition will include artwork by Grayson Perry, Nick Cave, Man Ray and Louise Bourgeois, religious icons and political statements.

(Please note that a few of the tea towels include swear words)

We really want you to take part – Please bring along your favourite tea towel to include in the show, with an explanation of why you chose to bring it, whether it is because it belonged to your gran, it reminds you of a holiday or it is hilarious, kitsch or naff – we want to see them all!

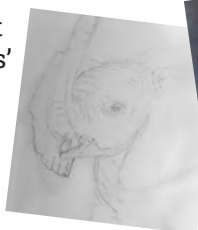

There will be stacks of tea towel sized paper and materials to design your own protest poster, which we will also hang up, so we can share what your burning issues are. We hope that if someone comes up with a great design about Hatherleigh we can have it commercially printed to sell in our local shops, so please get thinking, it could be about an important issue, a beautiful illustration or a great joke but please keep it clean and with a local theme.
